- WHEN: SATURDAYS from 10:30am till 12pm
- WHERE: Bromley Youth Music Trust, Southborough Lane, Bromley, Kent, BR2 8AA
- WHO CAN APPLY: All piano players aged between 9 and 14 (as long as they have started individual piano lesson)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT:

Sociable and imaginative way of looking at the piano, the history and the stories behind music works, the inspiring creative lives of composers, the fun and the art of conquering this beautiful instrument, and the pleasure of playing with others and creating imaginative music together. This course is part of the extraordinary music life Bromley Youth Music Trust provides for all young people in the borough.

The Keyboard Department has been running a course of Saturday group activities classes for our young and budding pianists (age 6-12) since April 2010, following suggestions from its own teaching staff. These are classes with a difference: they are neither individual piano playing lesson, nor an academic class!

HOW MUCH: There is a charge of £125 per term (10 sessions and 3 concerts) payable on application to BYMT.

Cheques should be made payable to Bromley Youth Music Trust.

Notes- they stand alone, but together there is nothing more powerful. Alone they exist for a mere moment, but together they form memories that last forever.

YOUNG PIANO VIRTUOSI COURSE

For all piano performers from the age of 9 to the age of 14

How many times have we complained that the pianist's life is a lonely one and how many times have we asked the question: "Is there something there for our piano students to join in and start experiencing the fun and the socialising that the other instrumentalists have by joining orchestras, bands, choirs and ensembles?"

Making music at the piano sometimes is a very lonely task. But just try it with a friend - and it becomes a powerful experience to be remembered. Full of fun and interaction, it helps you achieve your goals faster and improves your learning skills no end. This course will be trying to address exactly this issue. This will be a fun, sociable and imaginative way of looking at the piano, the history and the stories behind musical works, the inspiring creative lives of composers, the fun and the art of conquering this beautiful instrument - the piano - and the fun of playing with others and creating imaginative music together. We are aiming to give our pianists a sense of belonging to a larger, interesting and creative group of musicians.

This is a continuation from the Little Piano Virtuosi course, and caters for pianists up to the age of 14 with Grade 3 and above.
